SYMPHONY POLICIES

The Helena Symphony Chorale asks a high level of quality and commitment from its musicians. Members of the Chorale are expected to attend all regularly scheduled rehearsals and participate in all performances of the season they have committed to.

The level of the Helena Symphony Chorale is such that singers are expected to be able to prepare their part on their own, specifically difficult sections, outside of rehearsals as the schedule does not always allow individual parts to be taught. Recordings of the music are often made available to help singers become familiar with the music and study their parts.

What commitments MIGHT prevent you from attending a regularly scheduled rehearsal?

Where did you first hear about the Helena Symphony Chorale? _____

If review of this application results in an invitation for an audition, we will schedule an audition with the Chorale Director or Music Director. If accepted as a member of the Helena Symphony Chorale, I understand and accept the level of commitment that is required which includes regular attendance, compliance with personnel policies as laid out in the Symphony Handbook, and the enthusiasm and energy that is needed to uphold a strong artistic standard.
